Dear Hiring Manager,

I am excited to apply for the AI Development Intern position at Quantaleap. This endeavor resonates with my aspiration to collaborate with skilled engineers and contribute to impactful solutions in AI development.

In my recent academic pursuits, I engaged in a stimulating project, where I collaborated closely with peers, developing a machine learning model that provided insight into student performance. Utilizing Python and Scikit-learn, our team achieved significant accuracy improvements, which sparked my interest further.

I have actively contributed to research initiatives revolving around machine learning for climate prediction. Through meticulous analysis of large datasets with Pandas and NumPy, I was able to unveil profound insights while developing data visualizations that effectively communicated our findings.

While I often wrestle with demanding challenges, I derive immense satisfaction from problem-solving. Such endeavors have strengthened my resolve to continuously learn and develop my skills, equipping me for evolving demands in technology.

Connecting with a team that values innovation and excellence aligns with my ambitions. I am keen to build on my prior experiences while engaging with Generative AI to enhance project contributions at Quantaleap.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Adalyn Long
