STRENGTHS

- 🔍 Fact Gathering
Mock interviews brought clearer loss details into case files, and peers sought help organizing difficult witness accounts.
- ♥ Coverage Judgment
Policy language and loss facts were compared carefully, helping faculty reviewers follow each coverage recommendation.
- 👂 Customer Communication
Plain language call outlines made sensitive claim conversations easier, with classmates noting calmer and clearer explanations.
- 🔧 Repair Coordination
Estimate comparisons exposed scope questions early, giving simulated appraisers and estimators a cleaner path forward.
- 🗣 Negotiation
Role play discussions recorded offers and rationale clearly, building confidence during customer and carrier settlement conversations.

SUMMARY

Early career claims professional prepared through supervised automobile loss simulations and a Bachelor of Science in Risk Management and Insurance. Academic casework covered first notice of loss, property damage, insurance contracts, coverage analysis, liability decisions, customer and witness interviews, repair coordination, appraisal review, negotiation, and documented resolution. Structured exercises required clear phone communication, organized electronic files, careful comparison of statements and damage evidence, and practical judgment under review. Capstone work followed simulated claims from initial report through settlement disposition, including policy interpretation, fault reasoning, estimate analysis, and carrier discussions. Brings patience, coachability, sound documentation habits, and genuine interest in helping customers through stressful loss events while supporting fair, timely claim outcomes.
