STRENGTHS

- 🔍 Evidence Review
Compared statements, wage records, and source documents carefully. Colleagues relied on clear notes when cases needed another look.
- 👂 Respectful Call Control
Used focused questions during difficult calls. Customers received clear next steps, and reviewers received facts they could use.
- ⚖️ Rule Based Judgment
Applied written guidance to real case facts. A pause for verification often prevented avoidable corrections later.
- ✅ Record Accuracy
Checked computerized files before action. That habit kept documentation gaps from becoming longer customer delays.
- ☰ Independent Follow Through
Managed competing queues with Outlook, Teams, and specialized software. When an issue was unfamiliar, research came before escalation.

SUMMARY

Claims and eligibility specialist with three years of administrative research experience supporting benefit determinations, compliance reviews, and customer service operations. Evaluates applicant statements, wage information, employer responses, and supporting records against program rules, statutes, regulations, and documented procedures. Conducts sustained inbound and outbound calls, uses focused questioning to clarify disputed facts, and explains requirements, claim status, appeals, and next steps in plain language. Maintains accurate computerized records, researches wage discrepancies, corrects documentation gaps, and identifies matters requiring additional fact finding. Works independently across specialized claims software, Microsoft Outlook, Microsoft Teams, and quality review processes. Experience serving diverse customers with patience, respectful call control, sound judgment, and consistent attention to accuracy. Brings practical research discipline and service awareness to benefit administration work.

EXPERIENCE

Eligibility Claims Specialist

Northwest Benefits Review Center 📅 October 2024 - Present 📍 Vancouver, WA

Supports benefit claim evaluation across computerized case systems, telephone service channels, wage records, employer responses, and specialized claims software. Handles sensitive eligibility questions independently, balances production expectations with quality review, and coordinates unresolved matters for correction or adjudication.

- Evaluated benefit claims using wage information, statements, and records to identify eligibility and fact finding needs.
- Clarified disputed facts through structured claimant and employer calls, improving documentation for claim decisions.
- Researched wage discrepancies across case systems, directing unresolved processing barriers toward correction or adjudication.
- Reviewed computerized claim records for completeness, correcting documentation gaps before final action and customer notification.
- Explained claim status, appeal steps, procedures, and policy decisions in plain language during complex calls.
- Organized deadlines and escalations through Microsoft Outlook, Microsoft Teams, and specialized claims software.

Program Research Specialist

Columbia Public Assistance Services 📅 October 2023 - September 2024 📍 Portland, OR

Conducted administrative research for public benefit eligibility and compliance reviews, compiling records, testing evidence against written guidelines, and preparing clear recommendations. Managed time sensitive cases while coordinating questions with reviewers and supervisors through structured notes, quality checks, Outlook, and Teams.

- Compiled applicant records, income evidence, and program documents for benefit eligibility and compliance reviews.
- Evaluated case facts against written guidelines, documenting recommendations and identifying needs for additional verification.
- Contacted customers by telephone to obtain missing information and explain application requirements or review options.
- Compared database entries with submitted documents, resolving inconsistencies before final determination review.
- Managed time sensitive case queues with standardized notes and quality checks, preserving clear audit trails.
- Coordinated exceptions through Microsoft Outlook and Microsoft Teams while completing routine research independently.
