STRENGTHS

- 📊 Pricing judgment
Turned proposal evidence, market research, and cost drivers into clear price reasonableness findings. Contracting officers relied on those conclusions.
- 🗨️ Negotiation support
Built negotiation packages that connected assumptions, historical prices, and commercial evidence. A useful lesson came from making every position traceable.
- 🔍 Analytical review
Caught arithmetic issues, unsupported assumptions, and record gaps during peer review. Colleagues often brought difficult files for a second look.
- 👥 Stakeholder advising
Explained pricing risks to engineers, program staff, counsel, and contracting officers in plain language. Conversations became more focused and actionable.
- ♥️ Workload reporting
Maintained recurring mission reports with dependable action data and deadlines. Consistent status information gave acquisition leaders a clearer operating picture.

SUMMARY

Senior contract price and cost analyst with 12 years of progressive federal acquisition experience across construction, infrastructure, environmental, energy conservation, remediation, and architect engineer portfolios. Provides pre award and post award cost and price analysis, proposal evaluation, market research, negotiation preparation, and documented price reasonableness findings. Advises contracting officers, engineers, program personnel, and legal stakeholders by translating commercial practices, economic indicators, industrial conditions, historical pricing, and cost data into sound acquisition strategies. Career growth includes increasingly complex analytical assignments, peer quality review, workload reporting, stakeholder consultation, and hands on support as an individual contributor. Brings careful judgment, clear writing, customer service, integrity, negotiation support, and reliable records management to deadline driven federal acquisition environments.

EXPERIENCE

Senior Contract Price and Cost Analyst

Potomac Federal Procurement Partners 📅 July 2023 - Present 📍 Arlington, VA

Leads complex pricing analysis for construction, remediation, energy conservation, and architect engineer acquisitions. Advises contracting officers and multidisciplinary teams, reviews peer work, and converts market evidence into negotiation positions and acquisition decisions.

- Led construction pricing reviews using proposal data, estimates, and market evidence for contracting decisions.
- Built negotiation packages from cost elements, historical prices, and commercial research for complex acquisitions.
- Evaluated modifications for labor, materials, indirect costs, and escalation assumptions affecting price reasonableness.
- Briefed contracting officers, engineers, program staff, and counsel on pricing risks and alternatives.
- Reviewed peer analyses for traceability, mathematical accuracy, and consistency with acquisition records.
- Researched economic indicators and industrial conditions supporting defensible acquisition strategies and negotiation positions.

Contract Price and Cost Analyst

Blue Ridge Acquisition Analytics 📅 March 2020 - June 2023 📍 Alexandria, VA

Performed cost and price analysis for civil works, flood risk reduction, facility construction, and environmental actions. Produced pricing memoranda, workload reports, and analytical guidance that improved procurement file consistency and supported negotiation preparation.

- Analyzed civil works proposals using historical prices, market evidence, and government estimates for award decisions.
- Prepared pricing memoranda documenting evaluated costs, assumptions, evidence, and recommended negotiation positions.
- Examined contractor submissions for material variances, escalation assumptions, and indirect rate effects.
- Conducted construction and professional services research using commercial benchmarks and economic conditions.
- Produced quarterly workload summaries covering analytical assignments, mission activity, and recurring reporting needs.
- Provided peer guidance on pricing documentation and analysis methods for consistent procurement files.
