STRENGTHS

- ♥ Therapeutic Diet Accuracy
Diet instructions became clear prep steps, and tray checks helped protect resident safety during busy service periods.
- ♥ Batch Production
Large meal periods stayed orderly through staged recipes and practical timing. Teammates often sought help with crowded prep lists.
- ✓ Food Safety Control
Temperature checks, cooling steps, and holding reviews caught concerns early. That steady routine kept service dependable.
- 👥 Resident Service
Resident preferences received thoughtful attention within diet limits. Small menu adjustments often made dining feel more personal.
- ➦ Sanitary Workflow
Clean as you go habits kept stations ready between menu items. A clear workspace made difficult shifts easier.
- 🕒 Reliable Coverage
Rotating weekday and weekend shifts received consistent attendance. Short notice coverage showed a practical commitment to care operations.

SUMMARY

Healthcare food service professional with three years of experience preparing high volume meals for older adults, patients, staff, and institutional dining customers. Daily work includes batch cooking, standardized recipes, therapeutic diets, texture modified meals, reduced sodium options, resident preferences, temperature monitoring, safe holding, sanitation, and clean as you go practices. Experience in senior living and hospital kitchens supports dependable service across breakfast, lunch, and dinner while protecting quality, confidentiality, and professional boundaries. Maintains a valid Washington state food worker card and ServSafe Food Handler certification. Comfortable with rotating coverage, active kitchen duties, required training, personal protective equipment, and short notice staffing needs. Brings calm judgment to diet questions, production changes, and resident requests, helping care teams deliver safe, appealing meals with consistent service.

EXPERIENCE

Institutional Cook

Columbia Basin Senior Living 📅 March 2025 - Present 📍 Kennewick, WA

Supports daily dining operations for approximately 110 older adult residents. Owns meal production, therapeutic diet preparation, service readiness, sanitation, documentation, and training compliance across rotating shifts.

- Prepared meals for 110 residents using production sheets, standardized recipes, and batch cooking methods.
- Translated diet orders into texture modified and reduced sodium meals, checking trays before service.
- Recorded cooking and holding temperatures, correcting food safety concerns before resident service began.
- Balanced resident preferences with prescribed restrictions, menu availability, and consistent portion standards.
- Maintained clean as you go sanitation across prep tables, utensils, equipment, and storage areas.
- Completed infection control, confidentiality, safety, and resident boundary training during rotating shifts.

Food Service Cook

Tri Cities Community Hospital 📅 October 2023 - February 2025 📍 Richland, WA

Supported patient dining and limited staff service in a healthcare kitchen. Managed batch production, diet coordination, temperature control, sanitation, protective equipment, and changing coverage needs.

- Produced batch soups, proteins, vegetables, starches, and modified meals for patient dining periods.
- Sequenced recipes from forecasts and deadlines, protecting food quality and safe holding times.
- Verified therapeutic meal requirements with dietary staff before cooking, preventing conflicting substitutions.
- Used calibrated thermometers and cooling procedures to control prepared food safety during service.
- Sanitized food contact surfaces during production, keeping workstations ready for successive menu items.
- Followed confidentiality, personal protective equipment, and conduct requirements during evening and weekend coverage.
