STRENGTHS

- 🚒 Calm emergency response
Scenario practice built steady call assessment and clear action. Faculty feedback recognized sound judgment during tense encounters.
- 👥 Community trust
Community interviews changed how safety concerns were framed. Outreach plans gave residents and organizations a clearer voice.
- ⚖️ Lawful decision making
Criminal procedure research kept legal standards visible during scenario choices. That habit supports fair, defensible action.
- ♥️ Clear documentation
Incident narratives turned observations into useful records. Faculty review helped sharpen sequence, accuracy, and accountability.
- 🚓 Traffic safety
Traffic exercises focused on safe positioning and movement. Repeated practice made instructions clearer during busy scenarios.

SUMMARY

Early career criminal justice graduate prepared for community focused patrol, public safety, emergency response, traffic safety, and lawful decision making. Supervised training has covered emergency and non emergency calls, preventive patrol, incident assessment, de escalation, investigative fundamentals, report documentation, and community interaction. Scenario based work strengthened calm communication, situational awareness, ethical judgment, and policy based action during encounters involving distressed people, traffic concerns, and potential criminal activity. Academic research connected criminal law, criminal procedure, public protection, peacekeeping, and state law concepts with practical patrol decisions. Community policing work included structured interviews, public safety analysis, and outreach planning for residents, businesses, and organizations. Ready to contribute dependable service, protect people from harm, preserve peace, and build public trust through disciplined field development.

EXPERIENCE

Patrol Officer Training Simulation

Student Lab 📅 January 2026 - Present 📍 Manchester, NH

Supervised patrol training supports scenario based emergency response, preventive patrol, traffic control, incident documentation, de escalation, and policy based decision making. Work emphasizes safe action, clear communication, resource awareness, and community protection.

- Completed supervised patrol scenarios using scene assessment and documented lawful decisions.
- Practiced preventive patrol in residential settings and identified concerns during debriefs.
- Applied de escalation communication during role play encounters with distressed individuals.
- Conducted simulated traffic stops using safe positioning and clear instructions.
- Produced incident narratives and field notes for faculty review after training events.
- Used policy based judgment when scenarios required resources or protective action.

Community Policing Project

University Project 📅 September 2025 - December 2025 📍 Manchester, NH

Academic project examined community safety concerns through interviews, call pattern analysis, traffic review, and outreach planning. Findings supported practical recommendations for respectful communication, prevention, public education, and trust building.
