Hiring Manager
DRW
Chicago, IL

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am thrilled to apply for the Senior UX Designer position at DRW, where I see an opportunity to contribute my skills shaped through years of experience and passion for crafting seamless user interfaces for critical trading applications.

While working at Innovative Tech Solutions, I led design initiatives that transformed the user experience of several financial applications; incorporating user feedback, I reduced errors by 30%, illustrating my strong communication and collaborative abilities.

Once, during a user research session, I faced challenges in accessing real-time trader needs. Yet, by engaging directly with users, I gleaned insights that informed designs, resulting in significant enhancements in usability.

My forte lies in fostering a design language; at my previous firms, I established workflows that ensured clarity and organization. This experience equips me to create design patterns that resonate with traders and elevate their operational efficiency.

Moreover, my exposure to Figma and AI-assisted design tools enables me to fuel ideation and streamline processes; collaborating closely with developers, I ensure designs not only fulfill user expectations but also meet technical requirements.

Looking forward to discussing this role further.

Thanks,

Danna Villegas
